In this issue...

of the Van Zorge Report on Indonesia, we present a feature article on Indonesian education, giving an overview of the education system, detailing its main weaknesses, and analysing the pros and cons of recently introduced reform.

In the From the Editor section, the Report uses the recent arms cache discovery at the house of a deceased army general as a springboard into comments on the stalled efforts to reform the TNI.

In Brief covers the newly passed law on Aceh and provides some details on the potential candidates for the upcoming Aceh Governor race. Implications of the new citizenship bill are also explored alongside some more detailed information about the politics of the arms cache discovery.

As well, we present our usual feature, Intelligence, which includes a leak on the likely fate of the 'Poso Three', the reaction in Jakarta over the appointment of Ramos-Horta as Prime Minister of Timor-Leste, and a warning about the veracity of political opinion polls.

We hope that you find this issue useful and of interest to yourself and your colleagues. Please feel free to contact us here at the Report if you have any comments or suggestions; we are genuinely grateful for your feedback.
